Miss Joan Dunn of Carrier Mills is Crowned Saline County Polio Queen

Runner-Up is Miss Susan Scribner of Eldorado; Nearly $1,600 for Fund

Miss Joan Dunn of Carrier Mills high school was crowned Saline County Polio Queen for 1957 last night as Carrier Mills ran away with the March of Dimes contest, which brought in nearly $1,600 for the fund.

Miss Dunn was crowned in a fitting ceremony at Davenport gymnasium here last night, between games of the Saline County Basketball tournament.

The queen candidate of the school turning in the most money to combat polio was to be crowned and Miss Dunn won easily as Carrier Mills high school, with an enrollment of 220, turned in $653.34, or an average of $2.97 per student.

Runner-up was Miss Susan Scribner of Eldorado high school and the other contestants were Miss Brenda Pulliam of Galatia high school and Miss Jo Ann Priest of Harrisburg high school.

The ceremony began with the appearance of a Color Guard from the Harrisburg posts of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, which formed a colorful background for the crowning event.

Miss Priest first appeared, presenting the school's check to R. C. Adams, polio drive chairman. Then came Miss Pulliam, Miss Scribner and Miss Dunn, each presenting a check. All girls were in formal attire. A loudspeaker announced the names of the girls, their schools, and the amounts each school collected.

Rust Remover Fluid Fatal to Sarasota Baby Derby Winner

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP) — A three-week-old boy, the first child born here in 1957, died Friday from injuries caused when a rust remover fluid accidentally was sprayed down his throat.

Jamies Lamar Duckworth, born Jan. 1 and declared winner of Sarasota's annual Baby Derby, was in his mother's lap while she cleaned his bottle warmer.

She pressed the button on the container to activate the spray. The fluid, however, shot out in the wrong direction, spraying into the baby's mouth.

Smiley Burnett Secured as Star of Show Here Monday

Police Chief Ross Lane announced today that Smiley Burnett, well known radio, television and screen personality, has been secured as the star of the Ozark Jubilee police benefit show to be presented at Bonnell gym Monday. There will be a matinee performance at 4:30 and an evening show at 8 o'clock.

Attempts had been made since it was first announced that the Ozark Jubilee show would be held here to secure Smiley Burnett as the star of the show, and it was only today that word was received that he would appear.

He is very well known from his screen and radio appearances and television shows, especially with Gene Autry.

Smiley Burnett and Gene Autry headquartered in Harrisburg for 30 days during their "barnstorming" career and appeared many times on radio broadcasts from WEBQ. They had with them at that time the "Girls of the Golden West," according to I. M. Taylor, WEBQ manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker and Son Return Home from Inaugural Ceremonies

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker and son, Richard Lloyd, arrived home Friday from Washington, D. C., where they were guests of her mother, Mrs. Pearl Norman, and attended the inauguration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They were seated in the bleachers opposite the inaugural platform so close that they could see well the features of the dignitaries on the platform, and the stage, TV and screen stars as they took their places before the microphone.

After viewing the parade they went to the inaugural ball at the Sheraton Park hotel which was the last and the longest stop made by the President on the evening of the series of inaugural balls.

Their son, whose grandmother is employed in the ordinance department, was taken to the White House, to Vice President Nixon's office and to the numerous government buildings and museums which would interest a school boy of his age and Mr. and Mrs. Parker had the pleasure of meeting many of the Washington friends of their mother.

Mrs. Norman was on the reception committee at the pre-inaugural tea and fashion show held at the Mayflower hotel on Jan. 18, at which cabinet wives and congressmen's wives modelled gowns worn at previous inaugurations and Jeanette McDonald was a soloist.

County Schools Get $593,380 In State Aid

Saline county schools are receiving $593,380.60 in state aid for the 1956-57 school year, it was announced today in Springfield by Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction.

Nickell yesterday signed claims for the 1956-57 term totalling $97,093,853, the largest amount of state aid ever granted to Illinois public schools.

The $97,093,853 is an increase of $13,723,232, about 16 per cent, over the $83,370,621 certified last year.

Claims of other counties in the area: Gallatin $189,051.34; Hamilton $159,150.57; Hardin $180,320; Johnson $167,788.73; Pope $103,458.89; Franklin $926,430.78; Williamson $1,253,397.14; White $421,557.98; Massac $322,115.48.

The Chicago school district claim totalled $21,233,937 and downstate claims totalled $63,258,530 as compared with $52,809,620 last year.

State aid increases are due primarily to a new method of distribution that places payment to school districts on a more current basis. Under this new plan no claims were filed for 1955-56. Therefore, the large increase results from a two-year period of school enrollment growth rather than the usual one-year period.

In the past, school districts did not receive their state aid money until 18 months had elapsed. Now payments will be kept current to the extent that districts will be paid in full 12 months earlier than before.

Claims, paid in monthly installments, are based on school attendance prior to November, 1956.

Goodman Ford, Inc., is Awarded Ford Dealership in This City

The Ford Motor Co. has awarded the franchise for the Ford dealership in Harrisburg to Goodman Ford, Inc., it was announced today.

The dealership is situated in the Midwest Dairy building at 323 East Raymond, which has been remodeled and redecorated for the agency. Although decorating is not complete, the agency is open for business as of today, and the owners plan a grand opening celebration February 15-16-17.

Owners of the new agency are Gordon Goodman, Clyde Brewster and Joe Vansaghi.

Mr. Goodman, a former Ford dealer at Johnston City, will move to Harrisburg with his wife and 11-year-old daughter and assume active operation of the agency.

Mr. Brewster, of Herrin, is the Ford dealer at both Herrin and Marion.

Mr. Vansaghi is a partner with Mr. Brewster in the Lincoln-Mercury agency at Marion.

All three men have had vast experience in the automobile business and they announced they plan to have a progressive sales agency here with a competent service department.

"We intend to render first class service to Ford owners and to become active in the affairs of the community," Mr. Goodman stated.

The new corporation will succeed Wilson-Taylor at the Harrisburg Ford dealers.

Mr. Brewster is well-known in southern Illinois, having been active in Southern Illinois Incorporated since its inception. At present he is a director of the corporation and is on its Industrial Committee. Until recently he was president of the Herrin Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Goodman has been very active in community activity in Johnston City, where he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Auto and Towed Car Overturn on Rt. 34; Driver is Injured

An auto driven by Clifford Garrison of Alma, Ky., and the auto he was towing overturned around noon yesterday on Route 34 near Mitchellville.

Garrison suffered chest injuries, state police said, but chose to go on to Paducah for x-rays. He was taken there by a driver who was towing a car behind him.

Garrison said he was travelling south and that a car swerved over into his lane just as he was passing it. To avoid a collision, he stated, he swung to the left and ran off into a ditch, both cars overturning.

Tells Police He Met Girls with Two Other Men

Says Girls Were Stripped and Bodies Dumped Over Bridge

CHICAGO (UP)—Police investigating the mysterious death of two teen-age sisters said today a young skid row dishwasher confessed to being present when they died, and then repudiated his story.

Bennie Bedwell, 21, related the story Friday. Capt. John Cappiotti of the sheriff's police said, as he was being driven to the scene where the nude and frozen bodies of the two girls—Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister, Patricia, 13—were found Tuesday.

Bedwell previously had denied ever seeing the girls but Friday, Cappiotti said, he admitted meeting them and two men in a skid row tavern Jan. 13. The officer said Bedwell identified the men only as Louis and Frank, and said they were in their mid-20s.

Accompanies Two Couples

Cappiotti said Bedwell told officers he accompanied the four on a ride to a forest preserve near Devil's Creek, where the girls' bodies were found. There, Cappiotti quoted the dishwasher, the two couples "necked" on the back seat of the car while he sat on the front seat, drinking, and then he heard some scuffling. Bedwell turned around and discovered the girls appeared to be dead, Cappiotti said.

The officer said Bedwell recounted how the men stripped the girls and dumped their bodies over a bridge, then sped back to the city where the dishwasher said he left his two friends.

Bedwell said the two men were driving a powder blue 1949 Ford, Cappiotti said, and that when he left them the girls' clothing was in the car.

Repudiates Whole Story

Cappiotti said that as officers pressed for details, Bedwell said he had lied, and clung to his repudiation.

Sheriff's detectives continued questioning Bedwell today.

Hundreds of neighbors and friends of the Grimes family gathered in a chapel Friday night for the funeral wake.

The girls' mother, Mrs. Loretta Grimes, rushed up to the closed twin caskets, fell on her knees, and sobbed forlornly.

"My girls, my girls. At last I am with my girls,"

Solemn requiem mass for the victims will be sung Monday in St. Maurice Church. An inquest into the girls' death will open Tuesday.

Meanwhile, a hotel clerk identified the Grimes sisters as the two girls he said had checked into the Claremont hotel Dec. 30, two days after they disappeared en route home from a movie. Colin McLay, 39, first identified the girls from pictures, and confirmed the identification when he viewed their bodies in a mortuary.

McLay told police that at 3:10 a. m., Dec. 30, a girl whom he later said was Patricia Grimes entered the hotel and asked for a room. She gave her name as Kitty Miller and said she and her sister, Helen Miller, needed a room.

Provides a Room
"I thought the girls were too young and told them so," McLay said. Although he was not inclined to give them a room, he said, the girl who called herself Kitty told him, "It's late and it's cold outside, and we can't get into our home."

When she said that, McLay said, "I consented, because it was cold out."

Dirksen Introduces Bill to Increase Corn Allotments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) today introduced a bill to boost corn planting allotments to head off a threatened collapse of the government corn price support program.

Dirksen's bill also would give Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson discretionary power to set price supports for corn at levels that will "not encourage uneconomic production."

Under present farm law, corn crops may not go below a floor fixed at 75 per cent of the fair earning power parity price.

Major provisions of Dirksen's bill would:

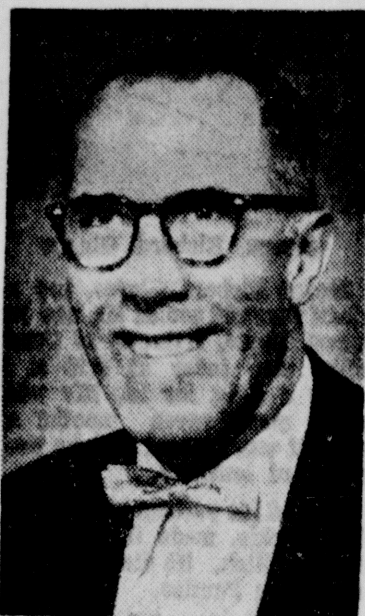

1. Set a planting base acreage of 51 million acres for 894 commercial corn growing counties for 1957, 1958 and 1959, the remaining years of the surplus-cutting soil bank program. After 1959, under the Dirksen bill, there would be no mandatory acreage controls for corn.

2. Through 1959, commercial area growers who want price support would have to retire into the soil bank an acreage equal to 15 per cent of the base fixed for the individual farm.

New Oat Seed Available for '57

Seed of three new oat varieties will be available to Illinois farmers in 1957, W. O. Scott, University of Illinois agronomist, announced today.

Newton is a medium-season variety developed in Indiana. It matures about the same time as Clinton. It has a good yield record in northern and central Illinois and has excellent resistance to lodging.

Logan is a new variety developed at the University of Illinois. It matures two or three days earlier than Clinton and has a good yield record in central Illinois. It is resistant to race 8 of stem rust but is susceptible to race 7.

Garry is a variety developed in Canada and is recommended only for northern Illinois. It matures from 7 to 10 days later than Clinton and is resistant to both races 7 and 8 of stem rust and moderately resistant to leaf rust. It has been one of the highest yielding varieties at the experiment field in DeKalb county.

Seed of these new varieties will be available, but quantities may be limited. Scott suggests that, if you want to grow any of them, you get a list of certified growers from your farm adviser and buy your seed right away.

If you can't get one of the new varieties, these older ones are still on the recommended list: Clarion, Clinton, Clinton (11 or 59), Nemaha, Sauk, and Waubesa for the northern half of Illinois; Missouri 0205 for central and southern Illinois; and Andrew for the southern half of the state.

Illinois Farmers Lead Nation In Soil Testing

Illinois farmers probably led the nation again in numbers of soil samples tested in 1956, as they did in 1955.

A. U. Thor, manager of the University of Illinois soil testing laboratory, estimates that more than half a million soil samples were tested last year in the 83 county extension and 42 commercial soil laboratories in the state.

Thor points out that the University laboratory checks the testing work of these other laboratories. The number of soil samples tested at the University in 1956 totaled more than 12,000. About half of them were check samples for soil laboratories around the state, which must send at least six check samples a month to the University.

About 6,600 research samples were also tested at the University last year, Thor says. These samples come mostly from the University farms and soil experiment fields scattered throughout the state. Some samples were also tested for other state experiment stations.

Illinois tests show the need of the soil for limestone, phosphorus and potassium. University agronomists point out that this information can be the most valuable a farmer can get, provided he follows the recommendations based on the tests.

This extensive testing and soil improvement program that Illinois farmers carry out each year may help to explain why average annual yields of corn, oats and soy-

This Week at

DIXON SPRINGS

University of Illinois Experiment Station

A round-up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in Southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff.

On the Station and particularly at the sheep barns, the cherubic babe—the ageless symbol of the new year—this season found his position already filled by bright, frolicking baby lambs. By mid-January more than 200 had been born.

Flock Separation Important

Sheep producers who consistently market 150 per cent lamb crops know that the first few hours of the new lamb's life are critical. Norris Phelps, our sheep herdsman, is now especially busy with that first-day care.

The 4x4 foot individual lambing pen is one piece of equipment that Norris values most highly. Separate the ewes and new lambs from the rest of the flock, and confine them for three days to make it easier to give them individual attention and get both the lambs and their mothers off to a head start.

Dr. Mansfield, Station veterinarian, tells about one lamb producer who consistently raises big, profitable lamb crops. He panels his lambing shed into three sections for easier management. One section houses ewes some time away from lambing, one is for ewes that are about to lamb or that have lambed recently, and one section is for lambs older than two or three days and their mothers.

Some system of separating new lambs is essential if losses, which commonly run from 15 per cent to 30 per cent, are to be reduced.

Sorghum Secret

If we can slip this note past Bob Webb and George Cmarik, cattle researchers, and if you promise to wait until spring before requesting results, we'll let you in on a secret. Here it is: A group of heif-beans in the state are among the highest in the country, Thor believes.

er calves is being wintered on a ration that is almost entirely sorghum—both sorghum grain and sorghum silage with a little mixed hay. Another group is being fed the same roughage, but the sorghum grain is replaced by barley. As a check on control, another group is getting corn as the grain part of the ration.

In recent years sorghums and barley have commonly replaced some of the corn and wheat in rations. This test of the feeding value of the three grains—sorghum, barley and corn—should provide some interesting and needed answers.

To Self-Feed Protein Supplement

We have found that it's hard to feed protein supplement in the small amounts needed in some types of wintering rations for beef cows. Our cattle researcher, George Cmarik, says you can self-feed the protein but use salt to limit consumption. George suggests that you mix 80 pounds of soybean oil meal with 20 pounds of salt. After several days, measure the protein consumption and increase or decrease the salt level according to the protein consumption you want.

USDA Studies

Aircraft Effects On Farm Animals

Results of present USDA studies are expected to show how much noise livestock can stand without ill effects.

Many farmers have been wondering whether jet aircraft noise, for instance, was upsetting their stock to the point where they would produce less eggs, meat and milk. So the Air Force asked the Department of Agriculture to look into the matter.

Pigs were chosen for the study because they grow rapidly and have shorter life cycles than larger animals. Work so far shows that animals display no outward symptoms and undergo no anatomical changes when exposed to aircraft noise. Any effects upon production will take longer to establish.

Test animals are being exposed to the sound of both jet and conventional piston-type aircraft through recordings of the actual sound. These sounds are piped into the test pens between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. at irregular intervals ranging from only a few seconds to 10 or 12 minutes.

Sound intensity varies from 110 to 135 decibels (sound measurement units). Maximum intensity of sound one mile from a jet airfield is 120 decibels. (Sound intensity close to a larger tractor is between 95 and 100 decibels.)

So far the only visible reactions of the pigs have been a momentary pause in eating, an occasional start or a gentle waggle of the ears. Pigs are slaughtered periodically and examined carefully for possible anatomical effects. Electrocardiographs are used to measure any changes of heart rate.

In silage tests at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station five leading forage sorghum varieties produced 42 per cent more forage on the average than the five highest-yielding corn varieties, and 29 percent less grain.

Animal scientists in winter steer feeding tests are looking for a hormone-like chemical that will increase cattle gains as silage does without lowering carcass quality.

Feed Powdered Wood to Dairy Calves on Test

URBANA—Powdered wood is one of the ingredients being fed to a group of dairy calves on test at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

J. H. Byers, research dairyman in charge of the experiments, points out that this wood is 99.2 percent pure cellulose. For that reason it is one of the almost pure energy sources in a continuing search for a purified diet that will put normal gains on dairy calves.

Other pure ingredients in Byers' diet include soybean protein, minerals, corn oil, sucrose sugar and corn starch.

The scientist is looking for a purified diet so that he can precisely measure all of the various ingredients. Then he can know exactly how much of each ingredient is in the feed.

A purified diet is needed, Byers says, because it is impossible with present laboratory methods to completely analyze hay and identify all of the nutrients it contains. Hay is one of the principal feeds in a normal dairy ration.

Final step in the purified diet research is to collect the waste materials from each animal and analyze it in the laboratory. Measuring the amount of each ingredient in the waste tells the scientist how much of each the animal has used.

Calves on the present experimental purified diet have gained as much as one pound a day compared with about two pounds a day for similar calves on a normal diet. But some factor or factors are still missing in the purified diet. Even the best performing calves have died after 160 days on the experimental diet.

Byers and other scientists working on this form of experimental diet are looking for the right combination of pure nutrients that will grow the experimental calves thru maturity and as fast as their brothers and sisters on normal rations.

University of Illinois agronomists recommend that you cover all diverted Soil Bank areas on your farm with long-lived adapted grasses and legumes.

Milk fever usually occurs the first 24-48 hours after calving.

Standard Oil Plane Crashes; 6 Persons Killed

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Dense fog and a falling engine were blamed today for the crash burning of a twin-engined Standard Oil of Ohio plane that claimed the lives of all six occupants.

Airport authorities said the pilot of the stricken Beechcraft had radioed at 7:55 p. m. EST that his plane was losing oil pressure, that one engine had failed and that he was going to attempt an instrument landing in the heavy fog and drizzle.

This report was received while the plane was over Easterwood Airport at College Station, six miles south of Bryan, but the plane crashed 33 minutes later three and a half miles north of Bryan Air Force Base, which is 12 miles west of this central Texas town.

The dead, five of whom were employees of the company, were identified as Robert C. Pomeroy of Oklahoma City, about 45 and assistant chief pilot for Sohio; Jim Thornton of Norman, Okla., 25-year-old editor of the company magazine published in Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cray of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson of Houston.

Cray, 39, was manager of the company's exploration staff. Thompson, 32, was a geological trainee in the Houston office and his 26-year-old wife was a secretary in that office. Mrs. Cray was 33.

A Sohio spokesman said the plane was en route from Houston to Oklahoma City and that the Thompsons had hitched a ride.

Girl Scout Council Holds Final Meeting Before Merger

The Saline County Girl Scout Council held its final meeting Friday evening at McKinley school. The Saline County Council merges with and becomes a part of the King Coal Council as soon as negotiations are completed.

Saline county was very graciously welcomed into the King Coal Council by Mrs. John Baudino, president, and Miss Mabel Webb, executive director of King Coal Council. Mrs. Baudino and Miss Webb explained the council structure, obligations, and benefits to be received from belonging to a large council.

The leaders from this area were pleased to learn that Saline county Girl Scouts will be eligible to go to the Girl Scout camp on "Little Grass" this summer, also that Bruce Lodge may be used for cookouts or overnight trips all during the year.

Board members who have given of their time and efforts over a period of years to further scouting, are gratified to be able, at last, to bring official Girl Scout training and organizing to leaders and potential leaders of Saline county.

Harrisburg and Eldorado women will attend the training program which is now in progress. Members of the board present at the dinner at "Santy's" for Mrs. Baudino and Miss Webb were Mrs. J. A. Barker, Mrs. K. C. Capel, Mrs. Charles Farrar, Mrs. Warren Priest, Mrs. E. J. Thompson, Mrs. Gene Morris, Mrs. Donald O'Neil, Mrs. Roy Shane, Mrs. Leiland Cutting, and Mrs. J. R. Hunter.

After dinner, the group joined the following council members for the program at McKinley school: Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. G. McGehee, Mrs. James Moore, Mrs. J. P. Robinson, Mrs. Lawrence Caluffetti, Mrs. Ronnie Doerge, Mrs. Cleatus Garnett, and Mrs. George Neff

ABC-TV execs are ogling "Assignment: Foreign Legion" for a possible spring start—it's a Merle Oberon series, packaged by the CBS film division.

"What's My Line" celebrates its eighth birthday Feb. 3... Pat Boone will take temporary leave of the Godfrey shows after Feb. 1 to head for Hollywood and his first movie, "Bernadine."

Wesley Foundation Crusade Rally at SIU Monday Night

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A 100-voice Southern Illinois University chorus and Southern Illinois Methodist leaders will appear on the program for a crusade-wide Wesley Foundation Crusade rally in the SIU Shryock Auditorium here Monday evening (January 28).

The rally, beginning at 7:30 p. m., will spark a campaign throughout the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist church to raise $280,500 for a new Wesley Foundation building adjacent to the SIU campus, says Rev. Ronald Seibert, foundation director. The foundation seeks to provide religious education, recreation, social activities, worship, and counseling services for 1,000 SIU students of Methodist preference.

More than $32,000 in advance gifts toward the building fund already have come in, Seibert reports. Nearly $6,000 of this has been pledged by Methodist students at SIU.

Appearing on the Monday evening program will be C. E. Skiles, Mt. Carmel; George L. Moorman, Granite City; Rev. W. L. Cummins, Harrisburg; Robert Evans, McLeansboro; J. L. Buford, Mt. Vernon; and George Hand, Carbondale. Skiles is general chairman of the campaign. More than 1,000 students, parents and delegations from Methodist churches in the area are expected.

THE SECRET

In another moment he will be getting up and walking toward you, eager to tell the secret of his calmness and strength. Will you listen? He has solved many problems, overcome much grief and temptation, been able to meet the conditions of every-day living, all because through the Church he has come in contact with the Source of all power. In the Church he has found companionship. Its worship services have brought faith, peace and serenity. Its activities have furnished an outlet for his creative abilities and energy. The Church has been a part of his life from boyhood. Through its various departments the needs of his life have been met. He has enjoyed the fellowship there and, looking back, he is able to trace his own growth.

Have you learned his secret? Wouldn't you like to know it? What the Church has done for him it can do for you. If you are young, it will help meet your problems. If you are older, it will bring satisfaction and peace.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Needs That Jesus Meets'

Matthew 9:1-13
GOLDEN TEXT: "And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy: Son, be of good cheer: thy sins be forgiven thee." (Matt. 9:2)

INTRODUCTION: In the United States today there are more than seven million alcoholics. Have you ever tried to help an alcoholic quit his drinking? It is an impossible task, without the help of God. In all of my years of ministry I have found only a few alcoholics cured of the drink habit. In each of these cases God performed a miracle.

Every young person who takes his first social drink is taking a big chance on becoming an alcoholic. No man nor woman, who is today an alcoholic, intended to become one the day they took their first drink. They were going to be "different." They said: "I can take it, or, leave it alone."

In a home recently where I was called, I saw a gray-haired mother on her knees, mopping up the vomit of her alcoholic, drunken son. Not long ago he was one of our fine, outstanding citizens. Today he is a disgrace to the community and has broken his mother's heart.

The man who sells him his whiskey does not care for the life and influence of his victims. He does not care for the homes that are being broken. He is not concerned with the moral decay in human nature. All he cares about is that he can make another dollar. Ask him, and he will say: "I have to make a living." In hell, he will wish that he and his family had lived on bread and water while living on earth.

I JESUS HEALS (V. 1-8)
Jesus is interested in man's spiritual and physical welfare. He looked at the poor man, sick of palsy, and first of all healed his soul. He forgave him of all his sins. After that Jesus cured the man's body. First things first!

The alcohol industry today tries to put out the propaganda that the alcoholic is merely sick. They overlook the moral and spiritual issues. What about the souls of men and women? Do they care that literally thousands of souls are plunging headlong into eternal hell daily because of the drink habit? No, they must make another filthy dollar.

CONCLUSION (V. 10-13) Jesus loves all people. He loves the sinner. He warns all of us that we must not be hypocrites. Some folks today pull their robes of self-righteousness about them and hold themselves aloof from the sinner. This is not Jesus' way.

habit? No, they must make another filthy dollar. I JESUS SAYS "FOLLOW ME" (V. 9)
When one follows Jesus he must be willing to "leave all and follow him." Matthew was a gatherer of taxes. He was a man of means. When Jesus said "follow me," Matthew left his business, his greed and all he had and followed Jesus.

A bartender said to me one day, "I would like to become a Christian and a good church member, but I have to make a living." I told him that there are other jobs and proved it to him by getting him a job in a decent place. Today he is a most happy man. He can sleep at night, because his conscience no longer is bothered. Every bartender and liquor dealer would do well to look up their places of business and, "leave all and follow Jesus." This sounds insane to them now, but the day will soon come when they will wish over and over that they had done so.

Jesus demands full allegiance of all of us.

CONCLUSION (V. 10-13) Jesus loves all people. He loves the sinner. He warns all of us that we must not be hypocrites. Some folks today pull their robes of self-righteousness about them and hold themselves aloof from the sinner. This is not Jesus' way. (Recently, I sat in a saloon-keeper's home and pled with him concerning his soul's salvation. That man knows that I love him, even though I do hate the business he is in.) Jesus loves the sinner but hates the sin. Let us all try to be more like him.

Carrier Mills, Eldorado in Tourney Finals

Bull Dogs Lose 51-49

Thriller to Wildcats; Eagles Defeat Galatia

The Carrier Mills Wildcats, who came close to losing their first game of the season last night, met the Eldorado Eagles in the championship game of the Saline County Basketball tournament at Davenport gym tonight.

Carrier Mills ran up against a battling Bull Dog outfit last night but came out on top, 51-49, in a contest that had fans on the edge of their seats during the entire game.

Eldorado blasted Galatia, 70 to 51, in an odd game in which the scoring seemed to run in streaks. Harrisburg and Galatia will play for third place preceding the title tilt.

The Bull Dogs, playing one of their finest games, put up a stellar defense but it was superior rebounding on the part of the Wildcats that put them in the victory column. The bigger Carrier Mills boys could rebound several times until they made a basket, while Harrisburg had to hit the first time or lose the ball.

Bull Dogs Take Lead

The Carrier Mills defense was nothing to sneeze at, either, as they put up a zone the locals had a hard time penetrating. So with a very good zone, the Bull Dogs many times were either shooting over it or fast-breaking to the basket.

The first quarter was a hum-dinger as both teams ran full steam all the way to the wire, with Harrisburg out in front, 19-17.

Then Harrisburg began extending its lead gradually and ran up a seven-point margin, 30-23, as the Bull Dogs outscored the Wildcats, 11 to 6. More caution was shown in this period than in the first.

The first couple of minutes of the third period was what hurt the Bull Dogs most of all. They came out with some patterns that gave them about three good close-in shots and they missed them all. Meantime Carrier Mills had started climbing and with two minutes and 50 seconds to go in the period, the Wildcats tied the count at 33-33 as big Vern Rollins took over the brunt of the scoring chores.

Locals Bounce Back

With the locals making but five points to 14 for Carrier Mills the Wildcats led as the fourth quarter commenced, 37-35.

It appeared the Bull Dogs had played gloriously but in vain after about three minutes of the fourth period, when the Wildcats extended their lead to 43-37, but the Bull Dogs bounced back to tie at 45-45 with three minutes and 50 seconds to go. Carrier Mills again pulled out to 49-45, but Harrisburg tied at 49-49 with a minute left, when Bill Henshaw connected with an outside shot. There were still 52 seconds left when Rollins made two free throws to make the count 51-49, but neither team could score after that.

Rollins was high scorer with 24 points, but the contest was almost strictly team play on the part of both teams.

In the Eldorado-Galatia game the Bears ran up a 6-0 lead as Eldorado couldn't hit at all, but the Eagles did a bit better to lead 10-9 at the quarter. Eldorado made but four field goals in 22 attempts for a .181 percentage in the period.

Behind 6-9, Eldorado made 16 points before Galatia could score, leading the count to 22-19. Then Galatia started hitting and Eldorado couldn't score, Galatia running the count to 22-19. The half ended 23-19.

In the third quarter Eldorado ran up a 15-point lead at 44-29, but Galatia then had a streak and the quarter ended 44-34. However, in the last quarter Eldorado increased its margin as the Eagles outscored the Bears, 26-17.

Don Kingery of Eldorado was high scorer with 22 points, followed by his teammate, Richard Overton, with 17. Philip Odle was high for Galatia with 15.

The Harrisburg-Galatia game for third place will start at 7 p. m., the championship game at 8:30.

Eddie Machen Wins Unanimous Decision Over Joey Maxim

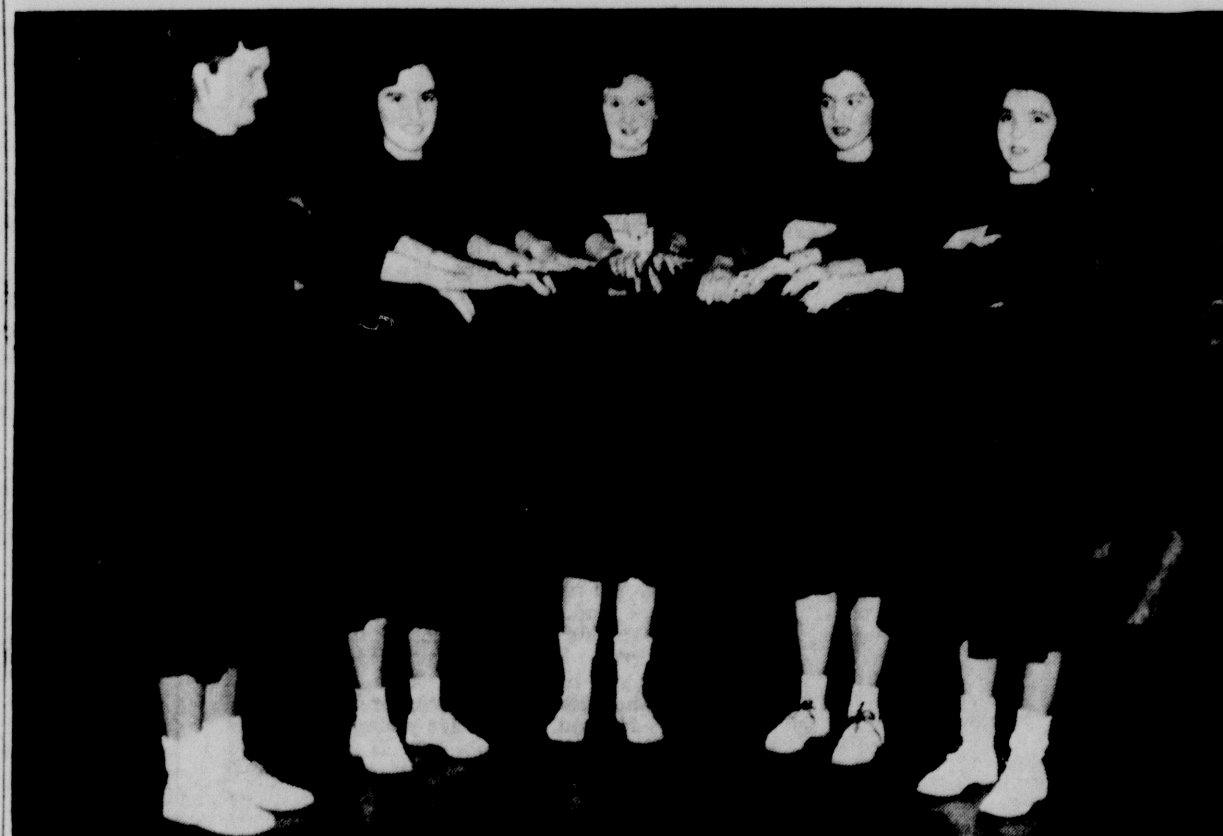

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Young Eddie Machen looked around today for a shot at somebody a step closer to Floyd Patterson and the heavy weight title, while aging Joey Maxim, not discouraged at his loss to Machen, looked for a "couple of breathers."

Machen, third-ranked heavy-weight from Redding, Calif., came on like a young lion in the final rounds of Friday night's 10-round television bout to win a unanimous decision over the former light-heavyweight champion after flooring him for a nine-count in the ninth at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Maxim weighed 192 for the fight and Machen 190 1-2 pounds.

Kashmir Defies UN to Become Part of India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The former princely state of Kashmir today officially became a part of India. Its incorporation came in open defiance of the United Nations Security Council.

The "integration" of the 84,470-square-mile territory into the Indian Union coincided with India's Republic Day. It lent added enthusiasm to the celebration.

Hundreds of thousands of Indians were jammed along the parade route in New Delhi more than five hours before the march began.

Bakshi Ghulam Mohamad, premier of the Indian-held sector of the state tucked under the Himalayas, said, "We are not bound by the U. N. resolution, which is against our country's best interest."

The resolution passed Thursday by a 10-0 vote with Russia abstaining, called on India to maintain the status quo. Kashmir until its future was decided by a plebiscite under U. N. supervision.
